Among the Diplomats.

The widely published report that the British ambassador and Lady Herbert would pass the summer with Lady Herbert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, has no foundation. The ambassador and Lady Herbert will sail for Europe in June, and will remain abroad for the entire summer. The embassy, with Mr. Raikes in charge, will move to Newport, according to their usual custom, for the hot weather, and will shortly look up a cottage for the temporary embassy, of which they will probably take possession in June. Mr. Raikes is expected from England, where he has passed his vacation, the end of April.

The Baroness von Palm sailed today on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, the Austrian ambassador and Madame Hengelmüller, who went to New York to see their young relative off, will return to Washington on Thursday.

HEARD IN HOTEL CORRIDORS.

Sympathizes With His Strikers.

E. C. Gerwig and wife, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and John Hanford McCoy and wife, of Sistersville, W. Va., are registered at the New Willard for a few days while visiting their daughters, who are students at the National Park Seminary.

Mr. Gerwig is a member of the furniture firm, Bentley & Gerwig, whose employees went on a strike a week ago, the first time in twenty-six years the factory has ever been closed down. To a reporter for The Times, Mr. Gerwig said this morning:

"Our company has always been a strong advocate of skilled and union labor. We have always paid the wages demanded. For some reason, which we are yet unable to explain, the men walked out of our plant and are still idle.

"On account of illness, I was unable to remain at home until the difficulty is adjusted, but I know it will be amicably done. I started in this life a laboring man and our firm will always stand by that class.

"The demands made of us in the start were greater than we could afford to pay and compete with other firms employing union labor. The union men I am sure will not ask us to pay them more than their fellow-union men are receiving at other plants."

Mr. McCoy, who is at the same hotel with Mr. Gerwig, is editor of the "Sistersville Oil Review," an authority on the oil production of the Mountain State.

Senator Allee Joined by His Secretary.

Sensor J. Frank Allee of Delaware arrived in Washington last night after spending Sunday with his family near Dover. He was accompanied back to the Capital by his private secretary, D. J. Layton, who is a son of Caleb R. Layton, secretary of state for Delaware.

The young man bears a marked resemblance to his father, who was instrumental in adjusting the Senatorial situation of the State. It is said young Layton is more of a politician than his father and when he adds a little age, he will be one of the political factors in the State of Delaware.

For the remainder of the extra session of the Senate, Senator Allee and his secretary will have their home at the New Willard.

Senator Smoot's Secretary.

Carl A. Badger, of Salt Lake, Utah, is registered at the Raleigh. He is a young business man of that Western State and a warm personal friend of Senator Reed Smoot, of the same State.

He came to Washington upon invitation of the new Senator from Utah and upon his arrival was tendered the post-

F. E. Wahler, Miss Petersen, Miss Eleanor Petersen, Mrs. J. J. Lewis, Miss Hendricks, Leon Taylor, Vladimir Sourin, Miss E. Steible, Carl Petersen, Jr.

Princess Henry of Prussia called at the studio of Mrs. Cadwalader Guild, the American sculptor, on Saturday, and tion of private secretary to that Senator. After consulting with his Western friends by telegraph, he accepted last night, and will remain with Senator Smoot until the adjournment of the extra session.

The appointments of both Senator Smoot's secretary and of Senator Allee's secretary are unusual in that both are young men of business standing and neither has ever held a position of a clerical or confidential nature before. They are both chosen for their unusual experience in the political matters of their respective States and both will attract attention because of their youthful appearance.

Pleased With Gorman Leadership.

Judge Lambert Tree, of Chicago, is a guest at the Arlington. The judge is known as one of the brightest legal lights in the State of Illinois, and is a former resident of Washington.

He is much pleased with the selection of Senator Arthur Pue Gorman as leader of the Democrats in the Senate and paid a high tribute to his ability last night while talking to a group of newspaper men in the lobby of the hotel. He said:

"It was a merited compliment to the ability of Senator Gorman when he was unanimously chosen to direct the ship of state for his party. He is looked upon by residents of the Western States as one of the brainiest politicians in the whole country, and his movements will be watched with interest. I do not know he will be nominated for the Presidency, but if he is the Republican party will know they have had a race when the ballots are counted."

The Southern Pacific line's territory occupied by headquarters of the navy, and the travel westward over his line is large. Concerning his State, Mr. Morse said to a Times reporter this morning:

"We are building up the State of Texas in a way that will be surprising to the Eastern people. Every day we are taking immigrants into the State, all of whom are selecting homes and beginning cultivation. The class going to the State are the best people of the world and will prove worthy citizens."

A dinner for Mrs. Arthur Paget was given last night by Robert Hargous at Delmonico's. In the center of the table was a mass of growing spring plants in full bloom. The guests of honor included men of eminence in the political, railroad, commercial and professional worlds. The banquet hall was prettily decorated and an orchestra discoursed popular airs.

Interment will be in Arlington Cemetery, and the funeral escort will consist of a squadron of the Second Cavalry and the Fourth Battery of Field Artillery from Fort Myer and the Third Battalion of Engineers from Washington Barracks.

At the outbreak of the civil war he was commissioned as colonel of the Twenty-first Indiana Artillery.
